Abstract

In this presentation you will receive information on recently published updates to the more commonly known ISO information security management standards (ISO 27001 / ISO 27002) and a number of new initiatives that the ISO IT Security Techniques Working Groups are currently looking into developing into new ISO standards. The discussion will also look at the need for organisations who have already successfully obtained certification to ISO 27001:2005 of the need to upgrade to ISO 27001:2013 within the next couple of years.

Biography
